

Continuous Comex Gold
as of pit session close 12:30 PM CST
February 25, 2008
Weekly chart

The chart pattern indicates a market in a "resting" or "pausing" mode.

I have noted the Fib retracement levels to give you an idea where we can look for support in addition to the horizontal lines I have drawn on the chart.

The market bounced from near the $950 level which is more psychological than technical but that level is giving us some initial support. Much better support lies down near the $932 level.